Continuum of Care

The development of a continuum of care for healthcare systems is critical for future growth and for the management of financial resources. In addition to being financially rewarding, an in-house planned patient continuum of care services for senior patients ensures an opportunity for increased customer satisfaction and better utilization of facility resources. With the coordination of the delivery of care across many acute and post-acute care venues, errors are eliminated and quality of care is improved.

FHA can integrate your existing post acute services or develop a continuum of care that will increase patient satisfaction and improve your bottom line.
