Senior Health Services

Seniors represent the fastest growing population for health care providers. They also account for a greater proportion of high cost patients in acute care.

To manage these costs, increase patient satisfaction and improve health outcomes, FHA can help you develop:

- ACE services (acute care units for the elderly, frailer population)
- Geriatric services, including manpower definition and medical-staff planning segments for this service
- Community-based care management for the frail elderly
Risk-assessment tools and striation of services for seniors based on level of risk and health indices
- Inpatient specialty programs
- Marketing and loyalty brand services specific to the elderly
- Clinic services specific for the elderly
- Facility program design to meet the needs of the elderly
